Dear Jimmy,

We left London at 1:45 this afternoon and the plane ride to Rotterdam was 40 minutes. Our room is beautiful and the whole trip is just fabulous. I'll never get over it. We had a television sent up to our room but we can't understand a thing but it is nice to have. Rotterdam is practically a new city because it was bombed to pieces during the war.

Yesterday in London we rode the subway all over the city. Daddy was really good about finding the way around. We saw Buckingham Palace and Piccadilly Circus
